

Are you getting enough (1)?

Developing an understanding of supervision theories, models and practice

Supervision is integral to delivering a quality health care service. This practical, reflective one-day course is relevant for healthcare professionals (supervisees and supervisors) from any clinical area. All levels of experience welcome. The course aims to increase participants' knowledge of what supervision is/is not, the forms it can take and relevant professional guidance; to consider each participant's supervision history, their preferred style of supervision and to identify their future supervision needs and challenges. This is underpinned by a wide range of theoretical frameworks. Group number is limited to 20, so early booking is recommended

Tutors: Cathy Sparkes and Sam Simpson www.intandem.co.uk

8.45am	Registration
9.00am	Introductions, expectations and learning objectives
9.30am	Defining supervision
10.30am	Break
10.45am	Your supervision history and beliefs: a practical workshop
11.30am	Models of supervision
12.15pm	Lunch
1.00pm	Supervision in practice
2.45pm	Break
3.00pm	Live supervision
4.00pm	Ideas for change and action plans
4.30pm	Close

Course fee: £160 per person per course

Early bird fee: £130 per person per course

Available for bookings and payments made in full 1 month in advance

Contact: info@intandem.co.uk to apply or

Follow regular course updates available on twitter: @_intandem